“ Even though Lucille loved to collect many items and dressed humbly, she was a very giving person. At one time we at the Senior Center were having a fund drive to purchase something for the Center. In walks Lucy with a jar of quarters. My first instinct was to tell her that she needed that money more than we did, but the look of pride on her face as she quietly handed over her precious jar to me made me realize just how important this gift was in her giving for our fundraiser. I will always remember her gentle and quiet kindness.
