“ My sweet “Grama”, oh how I will miss you so. I loved the way you’d light up whenever you saw us grandkids and how much you adored your precious great grand babies. I will forever cherish the memories I have with you. Watching countless episodes of Walker Texas Ranger, deer camps at the farm, breakfast after church downtown, playing garbage at Christmas, enjoying the greasiest food (and of course turtles) from Shepard’s, you and Mathew eating kipper snacks, picking veggies in your garden, feeding KC and Nitro, playing baseball in your big yard, the time I mowed your lawn and the lines weren’t straight, the list goes on and on. I will miss having you around to tell me how skinny I look (even when I was pregnant), and having you here loving and supporting all of us. I’m sure if there’s Jeopardy in heaven, you and grandpa will be yelling at the TV together. I know you will continue to watch over all of us, and instead of being our angel on earth, you’ll be our angel in heaven. Love and miss you Grama Schmidt.
