“ When Aunt Monie and Uncle Gilbert came to Berlin, WI after the second World War, they lived with my parents, Howard and Margaret Hoffman. During that time, my mother, my brother Larry, Aunt Monie, and I used to take walks out in the country to pick berries and I'll always remember how fast Aunt Monie could walk. Years later, my husband to be, kept telling me to slow down whenever we went for a walk because I kept walking at Aunt Monie's speed. We will love you always Aunt Monie and I'm sure you are giving the angels a run for their money. Love, Joan and Joe Busateri
