“ I worked with Jeff on various project throughout our years at CH2M/Jacobs, but at the beginning of 2022, I worked very closely with him in Louisiana. One of the things I remember best is the early mornings, as we were starting our day. I would come in a bit early to start my day with some solitude and I would play my favorite music in the office by myself. Jeff would usually come in shortly after me, and I would turn the volume down on my music as to not subject him to it. But after a couple times, he told me that I did not have to turn it down because he liked my choice of music. We shared an appreciation of classic rock and a few newer bands like Matchbox 20 (only a couple of their songs). So we would spend our early mornings in Louisiana enjoying a cup of coffee and some music. I left Jacobs around the same time Jeff went to the TYCO job. Like many of our coworkers, I will miss Jeff greatly. I am glad I got to know him better earlier this year. He was a fine individual and I am very sorry for the family's loss.
