“ Kathy was at several cardmaking/scrapbooking retreats. I remember that she would sit back and listen to all of the "chatter" going on around her. Every once in a while she would giggle at something said or share a story and just bust out with her joyous laugh. No matter what we shared with her, she always shared back, that was her way, very giving.

She had a favorite jeans jacket that she liked to wear. At the retreat, a group picture was always taken. One year, she was looking back at last year's picture and said "Oh my goodness! I wore the same jacket last year!" She did look good in it!

What I will miss the most--her kindness, soft spoken generous heart. She will always be in mine.

Oh yea, and I'll miss the extra coins she used to share with me on Slotomania!
